The project "Nous sommes tous des navigantes" aims to promote a direct contact, through participation on a youth exchange, of young people living in the opposite bank of the Mediterranean, youngsters who share a part of their ethnic and cultural background in order to deconstruct stereotypes and prejudices. This project proposal is based on the belief that today, as never before, only through intercultural and interreligious dialogue and the promotion of social inclusion we can find new balances that are able to strength social cohesion, support cooperation and active citizenship in the Mediterranean regions thus facilitating self-identity determination and the peaceful development of a "plural and inclusive Europe", and the Mediterranean area as the heart of our better future.
